

The Children Will Lead the Way

Good Morning to Me, Good Morning to Earth, Good Morning Creator, Good Morning All Life!

(A wake up song to the tune of "Happy Birthday to You"....)

The above simple, spontaneous song just spilled out of me. As an adult body of 48 years, my inner child urges to speak, and I invite her to take the stage. The following words come from the wisdom of the inner child.

Life here on this Mother of Earth must wakeup NOW! It is still too cruel, too dark, too hard. God's light is pouring in with so many blessings. Everyone in heaven is blowing lightwaves to the family of Earth. Remember that life is about God's plan, not yours.

So many children are being silenced and ridiculed over sharing what they know. We came here as children - all of us - from every generation to share pearls of what we know. We children are still being silenced and ridiculed when we attempt to lift life up.

Time and time again that the children will lead the way. These words have purpose as your saving grace. We children must gang together to present the true picture of life from beginning to now. Sitting on Mother of Earth, we must tell the story of nature, the circle of life holding everything in it, why we are here, what's happening behind the scenes, and where we are going.

The heavens of love are calling me to step up and take my place as a beacon for the New Green Earth. It is my time to be a leader. The power of instructions locked away deep inside is revealing my mission from God on this Mother of Earth. There is a knock at the door of my heart, and I listen.

This woman I am, aligns with the pure innocent power of the awakened child who holds the key to pass through the gates of the New World. My eyes are open wide to see God's new world on Earth. My ears are open to hear only God calling to me what to do, where to step.

I am ready God to do your work, to be your little one rising up through the old hard times to celebrate the making of the new land, buildings, and activities restored as Cities of God. This inner movement is breathing bigger every day. Don't be anxious and try to go out and find God's New World, or you'll be disappointed. God's New World begins on the inside. It's building from the inside out. That's how God always builds. Too often you look at creation from the outside and forget what is real.

Come on children, no matter how old you are on the outside, come with me inside to gather the truth of love. God is waiting for us. It is our time to leap into action. Tell God you're ready, and ask what you can do for God, not for your country. God is everything, and it's time for everyone to remember that.

You have lived long enough waiting for your purpose, waiting for change. You have lived long enough just letting things go by. I need you now to rise up and take your place among the chosen teachers of the Earth.

Your body is now dancing to my beat. Your mind is now receiving my thoughts. Your heart has been filled with love for many years so that you could face this New World mission I have for you. You live in me as I live in you.

The trumpet is sounding, calling you to create Heaven on Earth. Keep asking the child within...
"Creator, what's next, and together we will ride the clear instructions you seek. "
