

Errands Will Run Your Life

We are programmed in youth and reinforced by the media to run perpetual errands God forbid
don't run out of anything!
Stock up!
Shop 'til you drop!

Commercialism and consumerism is way out of control more... more.... more..... this deal ... that deal falling for the bait that goes on and on and on..... when is enough... enough?

In choosing not to play the game
I am a patron of simplicity intentionally conscious sensible and discerning without waste and haste Living simply rich.

When it comes down to it Water, Food, Fire, Shelter and Love
is all we really need Everything else is accumulation for wise discernment.

Let's get back to basics folks and focus on what really counts!
