

The Power of Story

All around us are deep embedded stories in water, rock, flower, tree... waiting to be told to the humble listening heart.

Stories are seeds blowing in the wind inviting us to awaken and grow.

Countless stories dancing on earth
your story
my story
our story
we are all walking stories rich is the tapestry of multi-colored strands.

What stories are true are up to you
It is for each of us to ask our own questions and find our own answers Inside my heart and soul is where I always go.

Stories that Awaken, Uplift, Encourage and Transform
These are the stories I treasure and tell.
